Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 15 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Outbreaks of rain then brighter with showers, some thundery.

Today:
Cloudy at first with outbreaks of rain, perhaps locally heavy. Brighter conditions with showers will follow from the southwest by early afternoon, with some showers becoming heavy with hail and thunder. Temperatures will be close to the seasonal average. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Evening showers, some heavy with a chance of hail and thunder. Overnight most northern areas become dry with clear spells, and possibly some patchy fog forming. Elsewhere scattered showers continue. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Sunday:
Any early fog soon clears. Then bright or sunny spells and scattered showers for all areas, the showers sometimes heavy and perhaps with hail and thunder. Temperatures near to normal. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Bright or sunny spells each day and scattered showers, these sometimes heavy with a chance of thunder, especially during Monday. Rather cool during the days, and with potentially chilly nights.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.